THE EASTER HAT.

"Merry Widows" flaring wide.
"Tillie" turned up on the sides.
Such a show bewildering.
Each in style the latest thing.
Crimpy crepe and chiffon trim.
Bonds of velvet, buckle, pin.
Never such like hats before.
Any woman ever wore.
Over and over I try them on.
Each before the mirror don.
How to choose, the question now.
Price tags solve the problem "how."
Mere all which will meanwhile
Blows a blizzard, but I smile.
Buying Easter hat, you see.
June-like makes the world for me.
—Frank Fair.

Lent is welcomed this year by the high church people because it is a welcome season to them always—and by the other groups of society folk because it enables them to rest after a busy season. The winter has been an easy society time, for, with a few exceptions, it has been void of big affairs, but as a matter of fact there has been a continuous round of smaller entertainments and the card tables have been doing a lively trade the entire season. Now the attention is turned toward the charity and benevolent organizations and school work. Lent is a dear old season and it is good to see smart society don the mantle of penitence and look after those in distress and sorrow.

Aid societies are in splendid condition now and the attendance of them are all unusually large. Let the good work go on.

Don't forget the "Flower Shower" at the Franklin School tomorrow afternoon. Take a package of seed or a shrub of some kind; the members of the committee will be there to take care of them.

There will also be a splendid literary program and music numbers.

The members of the Female Review Club will meet at the old fourth ward school building and have their study after which they will spend a while handling old papers for shipment.

The Daughters of the Confederacy did not meet Monday as was announced, on account of their being so many of its members out of town and the meeting of other clubs conflicting. Another meeting is called for next Monday.

The committee on finance of the Franklin school met at the home of the chairman, Mrs. W. R. Blackmore, and discussed many plans of money making. One—and the most important and most popular—is a play, "The Holy City," to be gotten up under the direction of Miss Hanna and given the latter part of May.

the proceeds will be divided among the four wards. Another was the shipment of violets to the northern cities a number of the large dry goods establishments of Oklahoma City want them as novelties at their openings and the mothers' club of the first ward will make quite a shipment later. The members of this club will also collect old papers after the fourth ward has made their shipment—on this they expect to realize something near a hundred and fifty dollars.

On this committee are Mrs. W. R. Blackmore, Mrs. Abernathy, Mrs. W. R. Burnett and Mrs. Ed Bird.

The members of the Woodman circle met in regular session Monday afternoon with Mrs. Sandlin, the efficient chairman, in the chair. After the roll call and the reading of the minutes quite a bit of business was transacted and a number of names balloted on also a number presented to be passed upon. The circle is in the midst of a sort of revival. There is a special dispensation on and the membership is growing rapidly and applications will be considered under this rate till May first. On the third Friday in this month those who have been accepted will be initiated and a good time in general will be participated in. The drill team is doing excellent work and will be put into special service during the initiation.

Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker suggests that the clubwoman becomes a "professional" in her work and not take it up simply as a passing pleasure. Service for the world is the definition she quotes, and tells the clubwoman just how she may give this personal service. Public art works, parks and public grounds, helping the poor and sick of the state, educating the state literates, saving the trees, making home work scientific, helping the children in their labor, working for humane laws, extending libraries, working toward intellectual growth, seeing that food is pure for the sake of the children—these are the branches of work in which women may engage in a professional way.

Ethics of "dress and shopping" are subjects being discussed by Christian club women. A daring treatment of what the average woman is a doll.

HOUSE WORK

Thousands of American women in their homes are daily sacrificing their lives to duty.
In order to keep the home neat and pretty, the children well dressed and tidy, women expend. A female weakness or displacement is often brought on and they suffer in silence, drifting along from bad to worse, knowing well that they ought to have help to overcome the pains and aches which daily make life a burden.
It is to these faithful women that

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND comes as a boon and a blessing, as it did to Mrs. F. Ellsworth of Mayville, N. Y., and to Mrs. P. Boyd, of Beaver Falls, Pa., who say:
"I was not able to do my own work, owing to the female trouble from which I suffered. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me wonderfully, and I am so well that I can do as big a day's work as I ever did. I wish every sick woman would try it."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.
For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?
Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

cate question to be undertaken by club women of the Windy City," at a meeting of one of the prominent organizations—this topic was discussed in their various phases. The financial aspect, the social aspect, stillifying the artistic perceptions, and stillifying the intellectual perception, after the formal program the discussion became general and every one present took the opportunity to say what was in her heart.

The ladies of the Leaf met in a very interesting session with Mrs. H. C. Potter, Monday afternoon, "Civil Service" was the topic of the study. "He that respecteth himself is safe from others; he wears a coat of mail that none can pierce."
Topical roll call—Current events. Leader, Mrs. Russell.
The leader gave the lesson outline. The chairman, ideas which have brought about the evolution of the industrial system, the problem of the unemployed, child labor and the slums, being some of the results. The desire on the part of the young people to better condition leads to their becoming workers in social settlements. Recent exposures, etc.

Responses:
Social Settlements—Mrs. Cobb.
The Juvenile courts. The Free Kindergarten. Good Government Clubs and their work—Mrs. Nixon.
Music, piano solo—Mesdames Pennington and Potter.
Paper—Mrs. Dick.
How a woman's club may become a power for civil service.
Debate—Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Poland.
Resolved, That the commission form of government is better than the council form of government.
Music, voice solo—Mrs. Dings.
Mrs. Potter, hostess.
"One flag one land one heart one hand, one nation, evermore."

Miss Agge entertained very pleasantly Monday evening at the home of Miss Nora Robinson with a strawberry luncheon. Games and music were enjoyed and a very choice supper served to—Miss Frazier and Mr. Charles Dillard, Miss Robinson and Mr. Kobe King, Miss Agge and Mr. Shelton.

Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of J. Pierpont Morgan is interested in the work of factory girls, and a society has been formed, the members being society women of New York and other cities, the purpose of which is to improve the conditions of factories in which girls and women work. There will be a meeting on March 6, and as the society is to be a national one there will be representatives from many places. The new society is a branch of the National Civil Federation, in which Mrs. Gertrude Books is interested. Miss Morgan will be the president of the new society.

A pleasing shirtwaist suit was shown in blue and white cotton pongee. The skirt is constructed of nine gores and is in clearing length, the lower edge with the plait drawn out measuring about four yards and five eighths. The tucks at the gores are stitched three times to the knees and then allowed to flare. The shirtwaist is laid in two groups of two tucks from the shoulders to the bust line and the front closing is made with buttons and button holes. White turn-over collars and cuffs are worn and a crushed kid belt.

Use Least Gas Last Longest

TO STOVE BUYERS

There is no article of household use upon which the health and happiness of the family so much depends as the Cooking Stove or Range which cooks our daily food, and in making a selection of an article of this kind, care should be taken to select the best, as a little money laid out for these articles is as well expended as it possibly can be in any direction.

All manufacturers and dealers in Stoves and Ranges will make the assertion that their goods are "the best," and no doubt many of them think they are right in so stating. We claim superiority for our entire line of
